MEETING CALLED

Mine Workers Will Decide
On the Matter Next Monday.

DISTRICT CONVENTION

Executive Boards of Anthracite Miners Call Miners to Meet By Delegations.

It Is Felt That Proposition Will Be Accepted and Work Resumed Early.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 17.—The executive boards of the three anthracite districts of the United Mine Workers of America in joint session yesterday unanimously decided to recommend to a delegate convention of striking miners the acceptance of the arbitration proposition submitted by the president of the United States, and it is reasonably certain that the advice will be followed and the great struggle brought to a close. The convention will be convened in this city Monday morning, and it is the hope and the belief of the officers of the union that the mining of coal will be resumed before the close of next week after a suspension of more than five months. The citizens of the entire region are much elated that the strike is almost over, because business in the coal fields has been practically paralyzed since the strike began.

There was some opposition manifested in the meeting against certain features of the plan, but after a full discussion of the objectionable parts a unanimous vote was taken to recommend to the convention the acceptance of the proposition. As the conference was held behind closed doors and a bond of secrecy was placed on every man present, the specific objections were not officially announced. This is the same executive board which on May 8 last ordered the strike to begin, which action was approved in the face of Mr. Mitchell's opposition, by the Hazelton convention a few days later. It is expected that some objections will be raised on the floor of the convention, but the officers are confident that the opposition will disappear when President Mitchell explains all the features of the modified proposition to the delegates.

A question was raised as to whether Commissioner Wright, who will be the recorder of the commission, shall have the right to vote in case the six other members of the board are equally divided on any question in connection with a settlement. Mr. Mitchell, when asked, appeared to be sure that he had not, and other officials of the union were also uncertain of Mr. Wright's status. The matter of the term of years that the agreement shall be in force was also a source of much inquiry. The union was strongly opposed to the operators fixing the term of years. One district president said this feature had been left to the discretion of the commission as suggested in Mr. Mitchell's proposition, while other officials said they knew nothing about it. President Mitchell for some reason did not care to discuss any feature of the arbitration agreement while the matter was still in the hands of the miners.

If the plans of the strike leaders are not disarranged, a general resumption of mining will take place about next Thursday. It is expected the convention will last two days and that there will be an interval of one day from the time the convention adjourns until the time set for the men to go back to the mines. If the convention should be in session on Wednesday it is probable resumption would not take place until Friday. It was a lively day around strike headquarters. From early in the morning until after the announcement was made that a convention would be called, a crowd was congregated at the place. Mr. Mitchell spent an extremely busy day. In the morning he had many callers who came to congratulate him, and in the afternoon he was engaged with the three district boards. Telegrams of congratulation from all parts of the country came to the leader of the miners during the day.

The coal companies, anticipating the ending of the strike next week, are busily engaged in preparing for resumption. Tens of thousands of coal cars are in the regions ready for loading, and extra efforts will be made in moving them to the large distributing centers once mining is resumed. It is estimated that more than 200 of the 350 collieries will be in operation by the end of next week, and will produce enough coal to relieve the situation.

PEACE AND HARMONY

Trouble Between Factions Not Feared at the Mines.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 17.—Of the 98 collieries operated by the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, the Delaware & Hudson, the Temple, the Erie and the Ontario & Western companies, the five big "carriers" having headquarters here, only two, the Butler, at Pittston, and the Hallstead, at Duryea, which were allowed to flood, cannot be reopened at once, that is, within a week from the time the strike is declared off. At forty-four of these places some work has been going on.

At most of the others men to the number of forty in some instances have been underground for several weeks making repairs, cleaning up "falls," and cutting coal.

The fact that there are only 10,000 non-union men at work and that 10,000 of the striking miners have left the region or gone into other employment and will never return to the mines, and the further fact that the collieries will be operated to their fullest capacity, is certain to prevent any possibility of conflict arising between union and non-union men, because of the one crowding out the other. It can be expected, according to a hint dropped by a local strike leader that the union will endeavor to win over the non-unionists rather than force them out.

Satisfactory to Miners.

Pittsburg, Oct. 17.—The men selected to arbitrate and settle the anthracite coal strike are regarded as satisfactory by the local miners and the miners and other labor organizations. It is felt that the men are sufficiently removed from active interests in coal production and of such intelligence that the miners can safely rest their case on the judgment of the commissioners.

CARNIVAL FRACAS

Illinois Man Breaks Loose At Terre Haute Merry-making.

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 17.—As a result of a drunken brawl on the corner of Third street and Washburn avenue, yesterday afternoon, an unknown man was shot in the neck and Ruby Gordon, aged twelve, was struck by a stray bullet and sustained a severe wound in the leg. William D. Stotts of Vermillion, Ill., the man who did the shooting, was arrested by Special Officer Henry and lodged in jail. The injured man was attended by Dr. Wyeth, but refused to give his name and left town before his identity was discovered. The corner where the shooting took place is in the center of the carnival attractions and was thronged with people.

Another exciting feature not down on the bills occurred when Dick De-Kenzo was attacked by Nero, the big lion with a wild animal show, at the close of an exhibition last night. The lion inflicted frightful gashes on De-Kenzo's back, hand and legs. Only the prompt action of attendants saved the trainer's life. The spectators were stampeded and a number were bruised in the wild rush for the exit.

Bloody Tragedy.

Mount Pleasant, Mich., Oct. 17.—As the bloody sequel of a divorce suit, Archie Woodin, twenty-three years old, is under arrest here charged with a triple murder, and this community was shocked yesterday by a bloody tragedy in which Mrs. Woodin's parents, Joseph Gulick and wife, and the prisoner's eight-months-old daughter were shot and killed. Woodin was overpowered just as he was about to turn the weapon upon himself.

Murderous Train Robbers.

Odessa, Russia, Oct. 17.—Circassian brigands have held up a train near Duvanny, on the Northern Caucasus railroad. Cambridge, O., Oct. 17.—Michael Mosco, a Slav, who it is alleged is wanted for a murder committed at Fones Run, near McDonald, Pa., a year ago, was arrested at Kings mines near Cambridge and is being held for the Pennsylvania authorities. Mosco was recognized here by a friend of the man whom it is alleged he killed.

Hope Given Up.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 17.—All hope that the ten men who had left the floundering steamer C. B. Lockwood off the port of Ashtabula in Lake Erie Monday night were still alive was dispelled when the overturned boat that they had embarked in was picked up late yesterday afternoon off that port.

FEARS FOR RESULTS

The Island of St. Vincent Given Another Scare By Her Giant and Menacing Volcano.

While Kingstown Was Not Affected

Fears Are Felt For the Nearer Region.

Kingstown, St. Vincent, Oct. 17.—A terrific eruption of the Soufriere volcano commenced Wednesday night. During the preceding day (Tuesday) earth tremors, apparently too slight to be considered important, were experienced in the central and northern parts of the island.

At 8 o'clock Wednesday night there was undoubted indications of an eruption. Rumbling noises were heard, they increased until 9 o'clock, when the roaring volcanic giant belched out its deadly contents. This eruption was followed by a brief lull. Then, from 10 o'clock till 4 in the morning the upheaval continued. The outbreak was accompanied by an incessant and confused cannonading. There were incandescent clouds and sparkling matter was ejected. After 4 o'clock the disturbance gradually decreased, but the noise of the boiling caldron is still audible in the districts near the volcano.

Both craters of the Soufriere were apparently active; they have been steaming all day long. Sand fell heavily everywhere from 1:30 until 2:30 yesterday morning. At southern points the sand is half an inch deep, the depth gradually increasing toward the volcanic cone, where there were showers of large stones, pebbles and clinders.

Kingstown and other southern points of the island have not been damaged. Reports from the Windward district are awaited. This eruption caused darkness at Bridgetown, island of Barbados, at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. There was a fall of volcanic dust there.

The sand ejected during this eruption has a stronger sulphurous odor than any previously thrown out, and one superficial square foot of it weighs exactly one pound.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 17.—Identification has been made by the local police of two of the men implicated in the attempted robbery of the old Meach brothers in Lorain county Tuesday night. One of the two men killed is Frank C. Gramville, who has been living in Cleveland for some months past. He is a married man. His wife was shown a photograph of the dead man yesterday and burst into tears when she saw the photo was that of her husband.

The second man is said to be James Tracy, whose family live in Illinois, forty miles west of Chicago. He is said to have been a college graduate nine years ago, but became reckless and drifted into criminal pursuits. His parents, three sisters and a brother are still in the Illinois home. Casey and the fourth member of the band have been bound over to the grand jury.

A Tardy Confession.

Newcastle, Pa., Oct. 17.—W. R. Walters, a farmer of Union township, tells a story strongly corroborated by his wife, which if substantiated, will prove a complete alibi for Frank Fields, in jail here charged with the murder of City Treasurer John Blevins, who was found dead one night in January, 1899. Walters claims that Judson Fields, the half-brother of the prisoner, who it is alleged made a dying confession implicating himself and the prisoner in the murder, was employed by him on his farm, and on the night of the murder neither Judson Field or himself left the farm, and they knew nothing of the murder until they arrived in Newcastle next morning.

Valparaiso, Ind., Oct. 17.—A party of men, armed, but without masks or semblance of disguise, stopped at the home of Abe Morehouse, in Pleasant township, this county, shortly after midnight. They demanded admittance, and when it was denied by Morehouse they forced an entrance by breaking in the door. Morehouse and his family were thrown out of the house and their household furniture was hurled out after them. Morehouse was warned never to return. The men were recognized by the Morehouses and the matter was taken up by Trustee John G. Benkle, of Pleasant township, who has just secured warrants for the arrest of every man concerned in the affair. He announces his determination to have each participant jailed regardless of prominence or wealth.

STARVED TO DEATH

Pathetic End of a Former Wealthy Citizen.

Michigan City, Ind., Oct. 17.—John H. Bowes, seventy-eight years old, was found dead in a tenement house here. He wore gloves and an overcoat, indicating that he had been suffering from cold. No fuel or wood was found in the house, and it is thought his death was due to hunger and exposure. Bowes was at one time a prominent citizen. His family as well as himself was wealthy. He met with reverses which left him in poverty. He had no relatives in the city.

Too Pained Criticism.

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 17.—The Rev. H. H. Gilchrist of the Congregational church, West Terre Haute, has become convinced that some one is dissatisfied with his preaching. Ten days ago he found a bundle of switches on his doorstep. Innocent of wrongdoing, he could not understand the significance of the warning. But a note slipped under his door since then explained the attention he had received. The note says the minister is "not an able preacher" and that all he does in the pulpit is "to pound the Bible." Mr. Gilchrist has informed his congregation of the occurrences and an effort is being made to discover who has been the secret caller at his house.

Joke Turned On Boys.

Geneva, Ind., Oct. 17.—What several boys thought would be a huge joke has been turned against them, and may have serious results. A few nights ago they closed a door leading to the office of the telephone exchange, fastened the door with wire, and made prisoners of four girls who operate the exchange. The girls failed to see the joke. They have filed affidavits against the boys, charging them with having caused a riot. The boys have retained a lawyer and will fight the case when it comes up tomorrow.

MCKINLEY was right when he said open the mills instead of the mints. In 1896 the Bryan party said he was wrong but now every body admits that McKinley was right. The thing to do now is to keep the mills open by keeping the party of McKinley in power.

The settlement of the great coal strike has been brought about by President Roosevelt. The beginning of the end was when the president summoned Mitchell and the operators to Washington ten days ago. Roosevelt is deservedly a great and popular leader of his party.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

AN UNQUIET SPIRIT.

The Mysterious Light That For Years haunted Cape Noir.

For many years on Cape Noir, the western point of Maria, a strange light was seen, dancing and moving about in the most unaccountable manner. At one moment it would rise like a column of fire into the air, and at another time it would fall like a meteor. Then it would seem to leap over the point and drop into the sea, afterward appearing again in the same spot on the hillside. The habitants tell this story about it:

In the time of the war for the possession of Canada a French vessel, pursued by an English warship, steered its course into the bay at this point for refuge. A boat was lowered from the side of the richly laden merchantman, and in this thirteen men swiftly rowed to the shore. Their object was to secrete a chest of gold which they had brought with them. On reaching the point they drew lots to see which of the men should remain to guard the treasure. The one to whom the lot fell was forced to swear a solemn oath, by land and sea, by night and day, by the ruler of the nether world, that he would be faithful to the trust through life, unless relieved by his returning comrades, and even after death would haunt the spot should no one come to take his place, says a writer in the Era.

To secure the fulfillment of this vow his wicked associates then and there put him to death and buried him with the treasure. The ghostly light was supposed to be the spirit of the murdered man, and many persons who, tempted by the hope of recovering the treasure, ventured into the haunted spot fled in terror and told blood curdling stories of the horrible phantoms and frightful sights which they had witnessed. The light is seen no longer. Perhaps some adventurer bolder than the rest succeeded in discovering the gold, carried it off and thus gave rest to the unquiet spirit.

A DOMESTIC DIFFICULTY.

The Solution Was Original, Though the Result Was Calamity.

"Every time I tell this story," a bright society matron remarked, "somebody accuses me of making it up, but it is a true story nevertheless. "Up in the Virginia mountains David and I took a long walk to explore the wild country road near our hotel. Away up on the rough mountain side was a little cabin, and as I have a most fervent human interest in the home life of all peoples remote from civilization I proposed that we visit the cabin, with the wayfarers' usual pretext, to ask for a drink of water. In the one room of the small house were the usual furnishings, a few chairs, many dogs lying about, guns on the wall, a high bed in each corner and a homely table spread with homely crockery in the center of the household picture. A plain little woman, worn and aged, but very neat in calico frock and gingham apron, met us at the door and asked us in, while one of the rough boys lounging on the porch was dispatched to the spring for fresh water.

"Instead of the usual mountaineer's open fireplace, with iron crane and kettles, was a surprising arrangement of a cooking stove mounted on a kitchen table. My glance reverted to this curious sight so often that our mountain hostess seemed constrained to explain.

"You uns ain't used to seck' cook stoves fixed up that way, I reckon," she said apologetically. "Pap, he got the cook stove down in town way las' May, and he didn't think 'bout the stovepipe, and he didn't git 'nuff to reach up to that there hole in the chimney, so we uns jes' histed the cook stove up on that there table till he gits time to go to town and git some more stovepipe. 'Tain't handy to climb up on a chair to cook, and I wish to the land paid' hurry hisself and git to town arter that there stovepipe. It'd be a heap handier to hev that there cook stove down on the ground."

"Of course 'we uns' agreed with the good woman that her complaint was well based, but we praised her cleverness and originality in utilizing the kitchen table. Probably not one woman in 1,000,000 would have ever suggested that way out of the domestic difficulty."—Detroit Free Press.

Yes, Indeed!

When a man gets tired out and ill, he goes fishing, returning shortly with three well-eyed pike, restored health and a blister on his nose. When a woman feels that way, who hangs around the house and cries if anybody looks at her. It must be lovely to be a man.—Chicago Record-Herald.

TO CURE CORNS.

A Few Remedies, Cheap and Simple, and Involving No Danger.

When the feet are pressed into tight fitting shoes—high heels make the pressure greater—by adding friction we have a needlelike point formed in the skin, and the greater the pressure the deeper the point will grow. The best preventive remedy known is really to go barefooted, but since this is not considered ethical in civilized life I will give a few simple remedies which may be of some value for the afflicted:

First—Place on the corn a piece of cold, moist linen folded several times, wrap it up in dry linen, then go to bed. With this treatment the hard epidermis swells up, and after six or eight hours the outer covering of the corn can be removed with a dull knife. When this treatment has been followed for three or four days, a small needlelike growth (the corn) can be extracted without pain or bleeding. By washing the feet often in cold water the tender place will heal rapidly. After getting rid of this corn it is well to wear shoes which are neither too large nor too small so as to avoid excessive pressure or friction.

Second—In place of the linen a crust of bread soaked in vinegar may be applied.

Third—The best application is to soak a whole onion twenty-four hours in vinegar, then apply one of the layers of the onion to the corn and keep it in place by a bandage through the night. After repeating this procedure a few times the corn can be removed without any trouble. By either of these simple applications this troublesome agent can be removed without any danger of blood poisoning and "free of charge."—St. Louis Republic.
